

LET'S ORIENT CHA, CHA, CHA

At the beginning of another session I am pleased to have the opportunity of welcoming both the students who enter the College for the first time and those who return to continue their studies. For more than half a century, students have come to this campus each September to enjoy the great privileges that Sir William Macdonald provided for them. They have found here the sort of training and education upon which to build their careers; they have made friendships that have lasted throughout their lives; they have also found inspiration in the traditions which have gradually developed in the College and the University. I trust, as you now become a member of the College and University, you will quickly find opportunities to contribute to the common life and tradition of which you are now a part. The College needs you quite as much as you need it and we trust that your contribution to its life will make it a better and happier place for us all.

With best wishes for a successful year.

David Munroe
Director
Institute of Education.

THE LINE UP

This week approximately three hundred and fifty freshmen and freshettes of the Faculty of Agriculture and Institution of Education arrived on Campus of Macdonald College. For many of these people, it is their first away from home, first time at college and first time living in residence.

Through the various events of Orientation, it is to be hoped that they have become acquainted with college activities and the campus of Macdonald College.

Monday morning registration of the Home Economics and Agriculture Students took place.

The college campus took on the air of orientation with "Welcome Frosh" banners, maps of the campus, etc.

The frosh also had the opportunity to meet Miss Neilson, Dr. Dion, members of the senior class and members of the Students' Council.

The senior class conducted a sing song and the frosh had the first opportunity to partake in one of the many good times which will be had during their college days.

A tour of the campus and stock farm conducted by the staff enable the freshmen to become acquainted with the various departments on the campus. This tour of the campus concluded in the Arboretum with a picnic supper.

More activity was in store for the freshmen Tuesday evening when a weiner roast was held at the Lakeshore.

On Wednesday while the Home Ecs. and Aggies were off on a tour of McGill the registration of the Education Students took place.

The staff reception was held on Wednesday evening for all new students and an Orientation Dance, one of the features of Orientation Week included the Wednesday Program.

The next day was the first day of classes for all freshmen. In the afternoon the Education Students were taken on a tour of the Arboretum and a picnic supper was held afterwards.

Last night the Education Students enjoyed a weiner roast and sing song on the Lakeshore.

Tonight the Vol Red Feather Campaign will take place at six o'clock. It is hoped that all freshmen will come out and support this worthy cause.

And all freshmen don't forget the big Orchestra Dance. By this time you have made more friends and have many more to make. They'll all be there so come and gain them in an evening of fun.

The Orientation Week hopes that the freshmen have gained something by this week of activities and that college life and activities aren't too strange on them.

The Committee would like to thank all the students who helped with the various activities.

To entering students we say "Welcome to the Clan Macdonald" and to returning students, "Welcome back".

Your presence here was made possible by Sir William Macdonald's interest in the farm, the home and the school, the three fields that the schools of Agriculture, Home Economics and Education have served since 1905. Sir William's interest resulted from the great need for trained people in these disciplines in his day — the need is even more pronounced today. You may be sure that your efforts will be assisted in every way possible by all members of the staff, and we hope for your success as sincerely as you do.

While partnership with the staff is characteristic of academic success, the other sides of college life — the social, athletic and other kinds of student activity — these you carry on as purely student activities. Their success depends on the help and enthusiasm that you provide — with a wise use of your time, all of you can participate actively.

You are part of a close-knit community at Macdonald — a community that will expect you to treat yourself fairly academically and your fellow students fairly in all your extra-curricular efforts.

On behalf of all of us on the College Staff, we wish you well for the coming session.

H.G. Dion
Vice-Principal.

Beachburg and Port Hope send their respective representatives for the Home Ec. Class of 66.

EDITORIALS COMMENTS

To you who are entering college for the first time we extend a hearty welcome. Congratulations are also in order for making the grade. The road behind you was hard and the path ahead is even more arduous. Most of your year will be consumed in diligent study.

Study is important but it is not the beall and endall. A college education implies more than the passing of a required number of courses and living the existence of a monk.

Most good students organize their courses and we suggest that you plan your leisure time in the same way. The college offers many opportunities to broaden yourself, both socially and culturally. Organizations such as the Literary and Debating Society, the Green and Gold and the Drama Club will open broad new vistas, thus we urge you to participate in extracurricular activities. You owe it to yourself!

Participation in most campus organizations is on a voluntary basis. However, there is one organization that you are obliged to support; the Students Council. Many who come here shun their responsibilities. Yes, responsibilities! For when you registered, you joined an institution the Clan Macdonald. You have a moral obligation to support the institution and the essential sub-divisions, such as Students Council.

Students Council in the high school serves no functional purpose, except, perhaps, to give training in parliamentary procedure. In college the reverse is true. Administration consults Students Council when changes are in order and many of the final decisions actually rest with the council. Students Council also actively controls all student organizations.

If this college is to be run efficiently in the future it will need your support. More than your support, it will need your participation.

Up to this time there has been a do nothing attitude prevalent in this college. In the Students Council elections last year many posts were uncontested and only 39.5% of the student body voted. This is the heritage we pass to you, the freshmen and the leaders of tomorrow. If the complacent sophomores, juniors and seniors cannot, or will not do anything, it is up to you.

Tryon Edwards said, "Duty performed is a moral tonic; if neglected the tone and strength of both mind and heart is weakened; and the spiritual health undermined." We contend that this observation is valid on an institutional, as well as a personal level, as the author intended. Again, Freshmen it is up to you!

THE FAULT - YE WELCOMES YOU. YOUR PROFESSORS WON'T!!!

WELCOME TO NEW STUDENTS

by Helen R. Neilson,

Director, School of Household Science

I am very glad to express on behalf of the Staff of the School of Household Science a very warm welcome to the returning classes and to all the new students at Macdonald College.

A very special welcome is extended to the new students from other countries. I hope you will soon feel at home in Canada and part of the family group on this Campus. It is with particular pleasure also that I welcome the older students, who have decided to further their formal education after careers in business or industry. You will be valued members of our College Community and I wish you every success in your undertaking.

To the recent high school graduates who have enrolled in Home Economics, I offer my congratulations for successfully completing the first phase of your education and embarking on a university course. Your first year here may very well prove to be the hardest academic test you have faced or will face in the years ahead. You are now required to organize your own studies; to make decisions about how you will spend your time, often struggling with the almost irresistible temptation to join your fellow students in non academic pursuits. You are in a new social environment with new friends, whose points of view on many subjects may be very different from your own or from your family standards, and the decisions you make this year may well colour your whole life.

Success or failure as a student depends on how quickly you can adjust to the changed circumstances of living and studying at College. I assure you of the interest of the staff in your welfare and our wish to assist you in your studies or with any other problem you may encounter. The struggle is worthwhile, and the sense of achievement you will experience on successfully completing the first year will be its own reward.

It is certainly a pleasure for me to welcome both the new students as well as the older members of the clan to our campus. During the past week spirit has been so high that I'm sure we could give a good account of ourselves to our high spirited forefathers of the Scottish Highlands. We have made a tremendous start which must not lag for a minute.

Clan Macdonald is on the march. This summer we invaded the Students' Recreational Centre and as you can see for yourselves many changes have been made. I hope that the billiard table will be repaired within a week and soon the new table tennis facilities will be ready for use. The T.V. and the dance rooms have been redecorated and I'm certain this was long overdue. We are employing the services of a fulltime janitor for the first time this fall. However he can only do so much. Let us all co-operate to keep our facilities in good condition.

Plans are also underway for refreshment vending machines in all residences. These should be installed within a month. We are still debating whether to install soda drinks or hot drink machines. Let us know your wishes at the Students' Society meeting on October 1. While on the topic of the Students' Society, I should like to point out to the residents of Brittain Hall that the Students' Society is not fully aware of your desire for weight lifting equipment, benches, etc. Let us know your wishes at the general meeting on October 1 and something will certainly be done.

The football team appears to be shaping up well with the prospect of a good season. Not only has the sigh board been made ready for operation but a very good P.A. system has been purchased by your council for use at all student functions. We now have for the first time a first class amplifier that can be moved to where ever it is needed.

I can assure you that Guy Jacob of the M.A.A. and Allan McNab of the Dance Committee have some great ideas for the coming season. Allan is preparing to try out a need idea similar to an activity at Queen's University that should be very worthwhile.

The Fault-Ye Times has a good staff and everything points toward a good year in this department. I believe compliments are due to the staff for their effort in bringing out this issue.

These are only a few thoughts that should be passed on from the Council to the students. However, let me impress on you the importance of taking part in students activities. Let us really put some spirit into Clan Macdonald this year.

THE CHOICE IS YOURS

S. T. S.

To all student teachers:

By now you are all aware of the existence of the Student Teachers' Society. This is not to be confused with the Students Society, which is in fact our Students Council. Your advisors have outlined a few of the main points about the S.T.S., but in the confusion of entering college, meeting the professors and deciding on just what courses to take, your mind was in a blur, and the letters S.T.S. most likely meant nothing. For this reason, we have waited for opening activities to settle down, before acquainting you fully with the society.

On registration day a paper was given to you, stating that a one dollar fee would be collected that day. Instead of taking money at this time we decided to wait until you knew more about what would be done with it. After all, you wouldn't want to sign a contract or a check without knowing the reason fully. In the past this method was used and many people are still wondering how they did benefit.

By now, each advisory group will have elected a temporary representative, whose duty it is to report back to their respective advisory groups, upon matters discussed at meetings. This representative will also report to the S.T.S. executive any suggestions or complaints concerning the entire student teacher body. He or she will also be in charge of collecting and keeping records of the fee.

The fee is payable by all students in the Institute Of Education and without it the Student Teachers' Society would be unable to function. The uses to which the S.T.S. will be put will be many and varied. Included will be a number of perennial activities, such as the Christmas Tree Project whereby gifts are donated to a hospital; the Graduation Banquet; Teachers Prom; intellectual discussions led by guest speakers; art exhibitions as well as the possibility of sponsoring ski trips and other activities. Of course these have been in the past. We hope that this year's executive will come up with many other interesting suggestions. As each year goes by there are always more improvements.

The Constitution of the S.T.S. has been made available to all the advisors, and you may read it whenever you wish to. This will give you all the information required. The Constitution states that elections are to be held during the first week of October. As the registration date is later this year, we will have to set the election date back at least two weeks. This will give all the student teachers ample opportunity to get acquainted and to look for possible candidates for election. Please look carefully, as the permanent executive that you chose will represent you all year. Freshmen, be on the look-out for a candidate for the position of second Vice-President. This office is one that must be filled by a freshman on either the two or four year course. We would like to state a few of the rules regarding elections, taken from the Constitution of the Macdonald College Student Teachers' Society. Article IV, section A; reads as follows — :

GENERAL PROCEDURE:

(1) All executive officers (president, vice-president, second vice-president, secretary, treasurer) are nominated from and elected by the S.T.S. with the exception of the Honorary President.

(2) All nominations shall be written and shall be accompanied by the signatures of ten (10) members of the S.T.S. plus the signature of the nominee. Nominations should be submitted to the chief returning officer no later than (date to be decided at the first meeting).

(3) All nominees must be introduced to the S.T.S. on week prior to the elections, and each presidential nominee shall be given the opportunity to speak for a time not exceeding five (5) minutes.

(4) Voting shall be by secret ballot not later than the third week of October; the place of voting to be determined by the Chief Returning Officer.

(5) Results of all elections shall be publicly displayed to the S.T.S. for at least one week.

(6) In the event of a tie for any one of the Executive Officers positions, there shall be a re-vote.

We hope that in reading the Constitution you will realize the importance of the society. The S.T.S. is recognized by the Provincial Association Of Protestant Teachers (PAPT) and in this respect all student teachers may go to the Teachers Convention or bring to the PAPT any matters concerning education.

Points To Ponder

Phil KNOX

Welcome to Mac: This is not intended to scare you, but as advice to Freshmen — you had better WEL(L)COME prepared. Supposedly, a qualification of this statement is in order for those few first year students who have not completely thrown off the shackles of parent dominance.

Upon entering an institution such as Macdonald, an open mind is a great asset for preparation.

One must be ready to prepare himself for the tremendous amount of freedom that will be incurred throughout the following year. Through first hand experience with the group of unfortunates who did not complete their first year last year, I know how important application to the course is, and how necessary it must be if promotion to the Sophomore year is the goal. The course is by no means difficult; however, with the excess of free time it becomes only too easy to get sidetracked with some extra-curricular activity. Letting these activities (social included) monopolize your days, weeks, and months can only end in disaster. This does not imply that you should become a book-worm, but a certain amount of good judgement and correlation between the two extremes is required.

Another way to prepare yourself is by the use of our large, modern library. Here one can spend hours upon hours discovering interesting and pertinent material. It is also a quiet, relaxing retreat for those who wish to write, make notes, or study.

A word to the wise should be noted at this point. This atmosphere in the library might promote one to slumber off for awhile. If this happens, it would be advisable to watch the snoring as the authorities will not stand for any noise in this secluded part of the college.

There seems to be one other field of preparation for your first year at college and that is initiation. The only solution to this problem, as far as I can see, is a water-proof skin diver's suit

ATTENTION FRESHMEN!

Among the multitude of choices which you, the incoming freshmen, are making during the first few days at Macdonald, (remember those confusing course options?) none will be more difficult than picking out the campus organizations and activities which you care to support and take an interest in. There are, here at Mac, clubs and societies to suit every type of individual whether he, or she, is a "socialmixer", athlete, or brooding young intellectual. You will find within these columns a fair sampling of the activities open to you. Take your pick; — the choice, dear freshmen, is yours!

You may have already discovered, while leafing through the Students' Handbook given you on registration day, that a great many of the campus activities come under the jurisdiction of the Literary and Debating Society. The Lit. & Deb. is responsible for the organization of such widely heralded activities as the Winter Carnival and the Green & Gold Revue, but, at the same time, it sponsors other events which contribute to college life: the debates, class plays, two amateur and skit nights, etc. In addition, it supervises the activities of the Music Appreciation Group, the Drama Club and the Debating Club.

Should these not be enough to satisfy your interests, any students who show sufficient interest in the formation of other clubs can bring it to the attention of the Lit. & Deb. executive. (In the past, Lit. & Deb. has sponsored such clubs as the Jam Sessions club and a Country Music Club.) Student interests are relayed to the Executive by the Class representatives. Carlton Davies is the Society's president.

Watch the campus bulletin boards for news of the Lit. & Deb. It is an organization of which all undergraduates and graduates who have paid their Student Activities Fees are members and deserves each member's support.

The Women's and Men's Athletic Associations (known respectively as the W.A.A. and the M.A.A.) cater to the tastes of the athletes among us. There is a variety of sports: rugby, soccer, hockey, basketball, volleyball, badminton, fencing, wrestling, boxing, tennis, swimming, track and curling. The organization of some is left to our two athletic associations. Elsewhere in this edition, you will find further details along these lines and a more complete summary of the athletic situation.

The college dance committee organizes, throughout the year, a weekly Saturday night dance. Music is supplied by an orchestra or by records, which incidentally are available to classes or recognized groups from the Equipment Manager along with other equipment.

As this brief "résumé" has pointed out, there is no doubt that Mac has plenty to offer you, the incoming freshmen, no matter where your interests may lie. It is now up to you as individuals to support these activities. We, as old pros of college life, wish you a wonderful time in doing so.

and a medieval suit of armour. But, as you have already heard, initiation has been ruled out. However, the two articles mentioned above might demand a little thought on your behalf. Whichever way it goes, enjoy yourselves.

One last point that should be taken into consideration is the presence of your advisors. They are at your disposal and convenience whenever you run into difficulties and need help. They are a group of wonderfully dedicated people. So, use their advice to the best of your ability.

It is sincerely hoped that you will thoroughly enjoy and profit by your freshman year at Macdonald through careful planning and that suit of armour. BEST OF LUCK, FROSH.

CAMPUS CLIPPINGS: Great

To sum up the work of the S.T.S. we will outline the objects extracted from the Constitution. Article II runs as follows.

OBJECTS:

A. To elect an executive committee which will deal officially with all matters affecting the S.T.S., and will act as the voice of that body.

B. To elect from its own membership representatives to other campus organizations.

C. To foster a healthy attitude towards the teaching profession, and to develop a stronger spirit of unity amongst the members of the S.T.S.

D. To develop college spirit by contributing to and participating in campus activities with students from other faculties.

E. TO provide for its members the opportunity of learning and practicing parliamentary procedure.

In closing the S.T.S. would like to welcome you to Macdonald College, and trust that your stay will be an happy and a prosperous one. Please watch for bulletins regarding meetings and details of elections.

Margaret-Ann Farmer,

new look to an old magazine; latest issue of CANADIAN SATURDAY NIGHT is worth a glance. A swingin' time in order for everyone tomorrow night with SOPHOMORES back from two weeks of practice teaching. An increase in the issuing of parking WARNING TICKETS has been felt over the past two weeks; needed badly for commuters is a parking area closer to the main building. ALEX CROWE, President of Student Council, deserving applause for effort on new recreation centre. Speaking of the recreation centre, the COFFEE SHOP is crowded without Freshmen and Sophomores; new location and larger accommodations definitely needed. Ratio about the same this year so far; TEEPEE class abundant with squaws. Sophomore with MONEY PROBLEMS this year; reason — lack of it.

BEEF OF THE WEEK: It is said that there are two sides to every story and the same holds true for Stewart Hall — there's the inside and the outside. Perhaps a greater effort to tighten security measures in this residence is in order. The reason being to keep the people inside safe from those who are supposed to remain on the outside after hours.

JOIN THE FAULT-YE AND SWEAT

OFFENSIVELY SPEAKING

by Bill TEMPLEMAN

The prospects for this year's team are good, according Mr. Bob Pugh, Mac's football coach. Offensively speaking, the '62 edition of the "AGGIES" will be bolstered by such holdovers as Bob Simms and Ron Augustine at the two guard slots and Nick Florian at tackle. The return of Sam Portch to this year's squad should be an asset to the offense, this will be Sam's fifth year at the quarterback spot.

Back on the line again, we find that Stu Lawrence, a rookie with the big "GREEN AND GOLD," has more than adequately filled the gap at center. Stu, a 210 pounder, spent the last three seasons with the N.D.G. Maple Leafs where he gained a favourable reputation as a solid blocker. However, Mr. Pugh has expressed repeatedly a need for "good hard running backs and men at the end positions. In regard to the defence, the word is that this year's defensive squad is a big improvement over that of last year."

Once again, the position of defensive half will be capably filled by Bill McConachie. Dave Lees, sidelined last year after the first game, due to forearm injury, will see action as a major part of the "AGGIES" defensive backfield. Ross Armstrong, also sidelined last year, is expected to add strength to the end position.

In the linebacking department, two new faces: Alex Baronsteff and Gerry Walther should add "beef" to the backfield. Walther, 5'10", 180 pounds, played last year with the Town of Mount Royal Juniors, and in the words of coach Pugh "looks very good so far." Baronsteff, a familiar face on Mac's Campus, spent last year with the hard hitting Rosemount Bombers.

One bright spot in the crowd of freshmen footballers is Jim Dickie. First year Phys. Ed. Dickie, who hails from Rosemount High, stands 6'2", weighs 190 pounds and looks like one of the most versatile players Mac has seen for some time. He is a kicking specialist in addition to being a hard running halfback. In spite of these good prospects, this team urgently needs competent men at the defensive tackle and end positions. The overall picture is heartening, but in the words of the coach "Once again, our main problem will be moving the ball. We still lack the type of offence that is able to move the ball on a sustained drive." All freshmen who have any interest in football are urged to turn out for practice. Please, remember that it is your team. GET OUT AND SUPPORT THE AGGIES!

THE HOOFERS

Bob Pugh's own Seven Blocks of Granite limber up before practise. Coach Pugh has gone on record as saying that he expects the defensive line to be somewhat thin this season. All objections are invited to be registered in the Letters to the editor section of the Failt-Ye.

Games to play

Football — the team is on its second week of training and is shaping up nicely thanks to the help of the two new coaches who are assisting Coach Pugh. We have a few of the stars of last year back this year (Bob Simms, Ron Augustine and Sam Portch) plus added talent in versatile Carl Piela, Alex Baronsraff and Gary Walther. However, Coach Bob Pugh needs many more players and if interested see Mr. Pugh, Room 1, Britain Hall.

Soccer — There will be a meeting for all people interested in playing soccer next week (watch the notice boards for specific date). There will be a captain chosen and further details about the team discussed.

Gymnastics Club — This year, if the turnout is profitable, we hope to have a gymnastic club. The club will be open to all students and is aimed towards the display in the annual Mac Royal. The time involved is about one hour per week and for further details see Howard Philips, Britain Hall.

Track and Field — last year the team placed a solid second in the intercollegiate meet and hopes are much higher for this year. The team needs new material so watch the notice boards for added information. Coach: Mr. Lawrence Lowe.

Swimming — Last year the team competed in three meets but the performances were not up to par. New talent is badly needed, so watch the notice boards and start training. The coach is Mr. Jim Widdop. There is also a Red Cross Instructors Course offered and for added details watch the notice boards.

Hockey — The Hockey team plays about 25, 30 games of which only half are league games. The rink opens in December and notices concerning the team will be posted. Coach: Mr. Bob Pugh.

Basketball: The team last year played 12 league games and many more exhibition games and did quite well. However, most of the players from last year have gone so players are badly needed for this year. Watch the notice boards for further information.

There is a class league for track, football, hockey, badminton, swimming, basketball and woodsman competition, so if you do not care to play on a college team come out and support your class. Mac welcomes you and hopes your stay here will be a happy and profitable one.
